

Internship marketing en communicatie

32-40 uur/week

Facts

Location: Amsterdam

Language: English

Duration: minimum 3 months

Start date: tbd

Stipend available: yes

OPERA Amsterdam designs museum exhibitions. Narrative spaces, where objects often play a leading role. We develop the concepts and storylines, often in collaboration with content designers from Studio Louter. We carry out the 3D design, graphic design, technical development and supervise the implementation. The process is highly collaborative; we work closely with many other disciplines in the area of interactives, multimedia and lighting design.

OPERA Amsterdam is seeking a driven and enthusiastic intern for our marketing and communications. You will help with creating and developing social content, help with our online strategy and other communications. As an intern at OPERA Amsterdam, you get a lot of independence, responsibility, and space to develop yourself.

What are we looking for?

- You study marketing & communication or similar
- You like making visually attractive content and write strong copy
- You are able to work independently, are hands-on and have a flexible attitude
- You would like to work at a creative company
- You have experience with creative tools (such as Adobe tools) and are familiar with online tools and social media (knowledge of Squarespace is a pré)
- You are able to write in English

What does the internship entail?

- You will contribute to the online strategy and presence of the studio
- You will develop (online) content for our social media, website and other communications
- You will be the contact point for the organization when it comes to input for social media
- You analyze the productivity of online communications and make suggestions to improve
- You can experience the design process and come in contact with different disciplines
- You'll help with day-to-day tasks in the studio

What we can offer you

We can offer you an internship in a unique and creative design studio in booming Amsterdam Noord, with dedicated colleagues (and a very nice dog) and the chance to focus on things you want to learn and develop your skills. While we don't have a fixed period for the internship, we would prefer you stay at least three months.
